

UNIVERSITY of
TASMANIA

Convict Archaeology Field School

Spend your summer in Tasmania's Southern Midlands on an archaeological excavation and earn 12.5 points/6 units towards your degree.

2nd and 3rd year university students across Australia and internationally will learn online about Tasmania's rich record of convict's lives in captivity and work onsite using the latest techniques in excavating historic convict sites. We'll also visit UNESCO World-Heritage listed convict sites at Ross and Port Arthur.

Cost Tuition fees, and a $1200 field school fee.

When First two weeks of December 2018 (online), last two weeks in January 2019 (onsite).

Expressions of Interest close 31 October

> utas.edu.au/archaeology