Welcome to St. Charles!

As a native of the Midwest (specifically Michigan) I am thrilled that after fifteen years SHA is returning to the region so everyone can experience Midwestern history and hospitality—and what better venue than St. Charles.

In some ways this conference is unique from our recent history and in some ways it is a return to our past. Speaking of new directions, the conference theme, “Providing Opportunities for Students through Education, Training, and Experience” puts students at the forefront of the entire conference. It isn’t a conference about professionals, it’s about the next generations of historical archaeologists as the conference program is full of student-centered events. I note in particular a revised Past Presidents reception that is re-envisioned as both a social affair and a chance for students to get practical advice on career and educational opportunities.

On the other hand, in some ways St. Charles is also a return to our roots. SHA has had a long tradition of meeting in venues that are not major urban centers. We have regularly held our conferences in places that are history-rich, accessible, and not prohibitively expensive, and this conference certainly checks all those boxes. So take advantage of that. Explore the small town charm of St. Charles’ nineteenth century Main Street, enjoy the cost savings of being in a smaller venue, and take advantage of NOT getting lost in massive conference centers to have many productive conversations, meetings with colleagues, and enjoyable social gatherings.

Welcome to St. Charles! I hope you enjoy our 52nd annual meeting!

Mark Warner
President, Society for Historical Archaeology

P.S. Hosting a conference is a tremendous amount of work. When you have a chance, please do take a moment to thank Steve Dasovich (conference organizer), the other members of the conference committee and, as always, Karen Hutchison and the crew who really make this conference possible!

The recipients of the 2019 Awards of Merit, Kathleen Kirk Gilmore Dissertation Award, and James Deetz Book Award will receive their awards prior to the Wednesday evening Plenary Session. Immediately after the banquet on Friday evening, at approximately 8:30 p.m., the following awards will be presented in a ceremony that is open to all attending the conference: the John L. Cotter Award, the Daniel G. Roberts Award for Excellence in Public Historical Archaeology, and the J. C. Harrington Medal in Historical Archaeology. All other awards and prizes will be presented at the Friday afternoon SHA Business Meeting.

Established in 1981, the J. C. Harrington Medal in Historical Archaeology is named in honor of Jean Carl Harrington (1901-1998), one of the pioneer founders of historical archaeology in North America. The medal is presented for a lifetime of contributions to the discipline centered in scholarship. In January 1982, at the SHA annual conference in Philadelphia, a special silver version of the medal was presented to J. C. Harrington when the award was publicly announced. All other Harrington Medals are struck in antique bronze. The 2019 Harrington Medal will be presented to Charles E. Orser, Jr., for his lifetime contributions and dedication to historical archaeology.

Established in 2011 and first presented in 2012, the Daniel G. Roberts Award for Excellence in Public Historical Archaeology was created and endowed by the staff of John Milner Associates, Inc. (now part of Commonwealth Heritage Group, Inc.), to recognize and honor their colleague Daniel G. Roberts, one of the pioneers in public historical archaeology, particularly within a heritage management framework. Public archaeology entails a commitment to broad dissemination of the lessons learned from archaeology and the importance of preserving the archaeological record. The award recognizes outstanding, sustained accomplishments in public historical archaeology by individuals, educational institutions, for-profit or non-profit firms or organizations, museums, government agencies, and private sponsors. The 2019 Roberts Award recognizes the USDA Forest Service Passport in Time (PIT) Program. PIT makes it possible for volunteers of all ages to work with professional archaeologists and historians on public lands throughout the United States on diverse activities ranging from fieldwork and research to curation. Since 1991, when PIT became a national program, there have been 2,885 projects and 35,386 volunteers donating over more than 1.6 million hours. Sixty-two percent of the total number of projects have focused on historical archaeology and related topics. Because of their experiences, members of the public become potential advocates for heritage preservation and protection.
Established in 1998, the John L. Cotter Award is named in honor of John Lambert Cotter (1911-1999), a pioneer educator and advocate for the discipline and is awarded for outstanding achievement by an individual at the start of his or her career in historical archaeology. The awardee may either be in training as an undergraduate or graduate student or a professional beginning their career. John M. Chenoweth will receive the 2019 Cotter Award in recognition of his research on religion and slavery among British Virgin Islands Quakers in the eighteenth century. His work has offered new perspectives on processes of religious formation and change in the colonial world.

The James Deetz Book Award named for James Deetz (1930-2000), whose books are classics for professional archaeologists as well as for non-specialists. Deetz’s accessible and entertaining writing style expands the influence of his books beyond the discipline, because they are read by a broad audience of non-specialists. This award recognizes books and monographs that are similarly well written and accessible to all potential readers. The recipient of the 2019 Deetz Award is Rachael Kiddey for Homeless Heritage: Collaborative Social Archaeology as Therapeutic Practice (Oxford University Press, 2017). The award will be presented at the beginning of the Wednesday evening Plenary Session.

The Kathleen Kirk Gilmore Dissertation Award, formerly the SHA Dissertation Prize, is awarded to a recent graduate whose dissertation is considered to be an outstanding contribution to historical archaeology. In 2011, the award was renamed to honor Kathleen Kirk Gilmore (1914-2010), a pioneer in the field of historical archaeology and a past president of the SHA. The recipient of the 2019 Gilmore Award is Paul Logue for his 2016 Queen’s University Belfast dissertation: “A Reinterpretation of the Archaeology of the Nine Years’ War in Ulster from a Cultural Perspective.” The award will be presented at the beginning of the Wednesday evening Plenary Session.

The SHA Awards of Merit were established in 1988 to recognize the specific achievements of individuals and organizations that have furthered the cause of historical archaeology. The honorees need not be professional archaeologists or SHA members. Three Awards of Merit will be presented in 2019. The Greater Saint Charles Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) has been supporting cultural resource management issues for decades. The tourist focal point of Main Street is the centerpiece of its advertising. With one-mile of restored nineteenth-century buildings, Main Street is listed as a District on the National Register of Historic Places. The CVB has actively supported the continued historical preservation efforts on the street for decades. More recently, starting in 2004, the CVB took an active interest in the archaeological aspects of the area. They directly supported archaeological projects at several locations along the street, with one project culminating in the discovery of a building constructed and used by the city’s eighteenth-century founder, Louis Blanchette. Through this continued support, historic preservation efforts and archaeological research continue in the area. Terrance (Terry) J. Martin has been one of the Midwest’s leading zooarchaeologists since the early 1980s. He has participated in innumerable historic (and prehistoric) archaeology projects throughout the region and has published over 100 reports, books chapters, and journal articles. He is being recognized for his long-term contributions to the archaeology of the region, most notably his work at New Philadelphia, Illinois, Fort St. Joseph, Michigan, and even along Main Street in St. Charles, Missouri. Perhaps his greatest contribution has been his generosity in freely providing time, information, advice, and, of course, expert faunal analysis to countless colleagues, clients, and students. Joseph Harl is being recognized for his many decades of work in Cultural Resource Management in the Midwest. Focusing mostly in Missouri and Illinois, Joe has been a tireless advocate of best practices, site preservation, and public education. His work has included hundreds of projects on historic sites and, for many of these projects, he presents the information to the public. He has tutored and counseled many fledgling archaeologists in his long career and is often sought out by those outside the field for advice and information. His work in our field has kept the spotlight on archaeology in this area and has helped preserve and interpret innumerable sites that would otherwise have been destroyed.

The Mark E. Mack Community Engagement Awards honor those individual researchers or research project teams that exhibit outstanding best practices in community collaboration, engagement, and outreach in their historical archaeology and heritage preservation work. Awardees for 2019 are First Place—Collaborative Archaeology at Stewart Indian School and Second Place—Anthracite Heritage Project.

The GMAC Diversity Field School Award recognized those who have shown a commitment to diversity in historical archaeology by running field schools that incorporate archaeological practices diversity in research objectives, perspectives, and participation. The recipients for 2019 are J. Cameron Monroe (UC Santa Cruz) and Sarah Peelo (Albion Environmental) for the UC Santa Cruz Castro Adobe Archaeological Field School.
A number of student travel awards have been established to provide support for student members to attend the annual conference and present a paper or a poster and to promote their participation in Society activities. The application process for each of these awards varies, and instructions for applying are disseminated prior to the meeting each year. Awardees for 2019 include recipients from around the globe. The ACUA George Fischer International Student Travel Award will not be presented this year. The Ed and Judy Jelks Student Travel Award recipients are Kimberly Connor (Stanford University) for “Feeding the Confined: Faunal Analysis of Hyde Park Barracks” and Kyla Cools (University of Maryland) for “Material Culture and Structural Violence: Reframing Evidence of the Social Gradient in Industrial Contexts.” Recipients of the Harriet Tubman Student Travel Awards are Oluseyi Odunyemi Agbelusi (Syracuse University) and V. Camille Westmont (University of Maryland). The Québec City Award/Bourse de Québec will not be presented this year. All student travel awardees will be recognized at the Friday afternoon SHA Business Meeting.

The 18th SHA Student Paper Prize will be awarded to a student or students, whose written version of the conference paper they are presenting at this year’s conference is judged superior in the areas of originality, research merit, clarity of presentation, and professionalism, and of potential relevance to a considerable segment of the archaeological community. The 2018 recipient is Lindsey Cochran (University of Tennessee, Knoxville) for “Spaces and Places of Antebellum Georgia Lowcountry Landscapes: A Case Study of Wattle and Tabby Daub Slave Cabins in Sapelo Island, Georgia.” The first runner-up is Amanda D. Roberts Thompson (University of Georgia/University of York) for “Identifying Enslaved Movement on the South End Plantation (1849–1861), Ossabaw Island, Georgia.” The winners of this year’s prize will be recognized at the SHA Business Meeting on Friday afternoon.

Beginning with the 2019 Conference, the Institute for Field Research is providing funding for two $500 awards to undergraduate students to attend the SHA’s annual conference. The recipients for the 2019 Institute for Field Research Undergraduate Student Travel Awards are Tori Galloway (Indiana University) and Michael Betsinger (Minnesota State University Moorhead).
The Society for Historical Archaeology (SHA) Conference has established itself as a premier conference for the celebration and presentation of investigative work, theoretical topics, historic research, methodological approaches, and emerging technologies in modern history (post 1400 A.D.). With its focus on historical archaeology and education for both terrestrial and underwater archaeology, the SHA is the largest organization with this focus in the world.

The SHA 2019 Conference on Historical and Underwater Archaeology Committee welcomes you to St. Charles, Missouri, as the historic city celebrates its 250th anniversary. The 2019 SHA Conference will be held at the St. Charles Convention Center and Embassy Suites Hotel, just minutes from historic Main Street St. Charles and down the street from the trendy Streets of Saint Charles, providing you with the perfect balance of modern cuisine and historic attractions.

French-Canadian fur trader Louis Blanchette settled here in 1769. His settlement, first named Les Petites Cotes (The Little Hills), became a thriving and important Missouri River town. Just a few decades later, in 1804, Lewis and Clark began their famous journey to the Pacific Ocean from the St. Charles riverfront. Renowned pioneer Daniel Boone spent significant time here and settled in the area in 1799. After Missouri became a state in 1821, the state legislature established the first capitol in St. Charles. This building still stands and is part of the Missouri State Park system. You can experience these historical moments for yourself by seeing Blanchette’s original 18th-century homestead location, touring the former state capitol building, exploring a Boone homestead, or taking many strolls down the one-mile-long stretch of Main Street, lined with 19th-century architecture and full of shops, restaurants, and historic ambience. The wealth of history embedded in the landscape has made St. Charles an ideal place of discovery for both students and professionals alike.

This year’s theme, “Providing Opportunities for Students through Education, Training, and Experience,” reflects the experiential learning approach taken by researchers in the area. Local organizations and institutions have explored methods for connecting students of all ages in meaningful ways with the history of their community. Historic preservation is alive and well in St. Charles. From supporting archaeological fieldwork on Main Street, to the preservation of its many historic neighborhoods, the city of St. Charles and its scholarly-minded community provide an excellent framework for engagement on how to educate the public about archaeology and preservation issues. We hope to make this conference the most student-friendly conference ever.

COMPLIMENTARY ST. CHARLES SHUTTLE SERVICE

A free shuttle will run on a continuous loop from the Convention Center, to Main Street, to the Country Inn and Suites. Hours for the shuttle are as follows: 5:00 p.m.–11:00 p.m. on Wednesday; and 7:30 a.m.–11:00 p.m., Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. On Thursday, an extra stop will be made at the Old Millstream Inn on Main Street for the Past President’s Student Reception starting at 4:30 p.m. and ending at 6:30 p.m. SHA Conference Identification badges shall be necessary to gain access to the shuttle. There is no schedule as to when the shuttle will appear at each stop, but the loop should take approximately 25 minutes or less, traffic dependent.
EXCURSION OPPORTUNITIES AND DINING

EXCURSIONS
St. Charles’ premier historical attraction is Main Street https://www.discover-stcharles.com/things-to-do/main-street/. The street boasts one mile of historic, 19th-century architecture on both sides of the street. The brick-paved street and sidewalks lead you to many shops, restaurants, bakeries, a microbrewery, and bars. The street includes Missouri’s First State Capitol (complete with tours of the original buildings and grounds, ca. 1821), and it borders Frontier Park on the Missouri River, where Lewis and Clark set off on their journey. You may even be able to take a guided ghost tour of the street. Main Street is just one mile from the conference venue and parking all along and near the street is FREE.

A bit further east in St. Louis, there is a tremendous variety of attractions, some of the more commonly visited being Forest Park with its world-famous (FREE admission) St. Louis Zoo, the Art Museum (FREE entry), and the Missouri History Museum (also FREE entry), among other attractions, all open year-round. The region’s number-one attraction is Gateway Arch National Park, located in downtown St. Louis on the banks of the Mississippi River.

LOCAL EATING AREAS
Three major eating areas are in the immediate vicinity to the conference venue. Across the interstate (just a short two-block walk) is the Mark Twain Mall (outdoor) with several eateries and shops. A quarter mile to the east of the venue is the Streets of St. Charles with higher-end dining options and bars. And, of course, Main Street has many restaurants and pubs with all types of cuisine. Keep an eye out for some of our area’s unique food creations and give them a try: Toasted Ravioli and Gooey Butter Cake. Just a mile or so west of the venue is the Zumbehl Road interchange area, where there are also many restaurants of all types and sizes.

The ACUA serves as an international advisory body on issues relating to underwater archaeology, conservation, and underwater cultural heritage management. It works to educate scholars, governments, sport divers, and the general public about underwater archaeology and the preservation of underwater resources. The ACUA is an independent non-profit organization that is closely allied with the Society for Historical Archaeology. The twelve-member ACUA Board is elected from the membership of the SHA, and represents a diverse, international cross-section of underwater archaeology professionals.

The Technology and Curation Resource Room (formerly known as the Technology Room) will be at the far end of CC Exhibit Hall South and will run from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, January 10 and Friday, January 11. There will be various resources as they pertain to underwater, terrestrial, and collections archaeological subjects. We will have professionals there to answer your questions, hands-on demonstrations, and examples of some current research being conducted with various technologies and methodologies. Please drop by with any questions you may have or stories of your own about your technology or curation dilemmas and/or successes. A flyer will be included in your registration bag with a more specific lineup of resources that will be present in the Resource Room.

Tentative resources planned:

- Going Paperless
- Underwater scanners
- Photogrammetry/3D
- GIS
- Ask a Professional (Curation, GIS, possible others)
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 2019

Time: 6:00 p.m.–6:30 p.m.
Location: CC Exhibit Hall North

Following a welcome by 2019 Conference Chair Steve Dasovich, SHA President Mark Warner will provide opening remarks. This will be followed by the presentation of the 2019 Awards of Merit, the Kathleen Kirk Gilmore Dissertation Award, and the James Deetz Book Award.
PLENARY SESSION

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 2019
Time: 6:30 p.m.–8:00 p.m.
Location: CC Exhibit Hall North

Preparing for the Future: Are Public Archaeology’s Best Practices Capable of Meeting the Challenges of ‘Reactionary Populism?’

Co-Chairs: Larry Zimmerman and Julia A. King
Presenters: Ashley Atkins (Pamunkey Indian Tribe), Alexandra Jones (Archaeology in the Community), Lori Lee (Flagler College), Laura Reed (University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee CRM), Madeline Roth (East Carolina University), Eric Schweickart (University of Tennessee), and Larry Zimmerman (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis)

In an essay published in 2019, Alfredo González-Ruibal, Pablo Alonso González, and Felipe Criado-Boado challenge archaeologists to reflect critically on the phenomenon of ‘reactionary populism’ and how it affects the practice and theory of archaeology. The three authors argue that the “liberal, multi-vocal model of the social sciences and the humanities is no longer a viable option.” Instead, we should “embrace an archaeology that is ready to intervene in wider public debates not limited to issues of heritage or of local relevance, is not afraid of defending its expert knowledge in the public arena, and is committed to reflective, critical teaching.” The authors and four accompanying commentators hint at potential approaches.

This year’s SHA plenary builds on this discussion. Archaeologists have a broad repertoire of approaches, practices, and tools for doing public archaeology. Which (if any) of them might best meet the challenges posed by a political form “that is anti-liberal in terms of identity politics but liberal in economic policies, characterized by nationalism, racism and anti-intellectualism, and bolstered by nostalgia or a perceived loss of privilege?” Can we adapt existing approaches or tools? Can we develop a set of best practices? What will students need as they enter the discipline? Will the demands of academic and CRM archaeology require different tools? How might we best ameliorate inevitable conflicts between archaeology and its publics? Will archaeologists be able to defend their discipline and its costs to an already suspicious public?
CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Workshops will be held on Wednesday, January 9, 2019 with the exception of the GMAC Introduction to Systemic Racism Workshop Presented by Crossroads Anti-Racism Training, which will be held on Saturday morning, January 12, 2019 from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

WKS-01: Underwater Cultural Heritage Awareness Workshop—CANCELLED

Instructor: Amy Mitchell-Cook (Advisory Council on Underwater Archaeology)

Full-day workshop: 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Maximum enrollment: 25

Cost: $80 for members, $100 for non-members, $50 for student members, and $70 for student non-members.

Abstract: Cultural resource managers, land managers, and archaeologists are often tasked with managing, interpreting, and reviewing archaeological assessments for submerged cultural resources. This workshop is designed to introduce non-specialists to issues specific to underwater archaeology. Participants will learn about different types of underwater cultural heritage (UCH) sites, and the techniques used in Phase I and II equivalent surveys. This workshop is not intended to teach participants how to do underwater archaeology, but will introduce different investigative techniques, international Best Practices, and existing legislation. The purpose of this workshop is to assist non-specialists in recognizing the potential for UCH resources in their areas of impact, budgeting for UCH resource investigations, reviewing UCH resource assessments, developing interpretive strategies, and providing sufficient background information to assist in making informed decisions regarding UCH resources.
WKS-02: Tips and Techniques for Presenting Papers at Professional Conferences—CANCELLED

Instructor: John McCarthy (Delaware State Parks)

Half-day workshop: 1:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m.

Maximum enrollment: 25

Cost: $40 for members, $50 for nonmembers, $20 for student members, and $25 for student nonmembers

Abstract: Archaeologists regularly attend professional conferences, and in addition to drinking beer, they deliver technical papers to their peers. However, your formal education probably did not prepare you to do this; well, maybe the beer part. Workshop leader, John McCarthy, has presented nearly 200 conference papers over his 40-year career. In this half-day workshop, he will share insights into how to identify and define paper theme(s), organize data and arguments, and prepare effective, memorable presentations, including ways to present complex data and how to make the best use of PowerPoint slides.

WKS-03: Archeological Illustration

Instructor: Jack Scott (Jack Scott Creative)

Full-day workshop: 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Location: CC Meeting Room 105

Maximum enrollment: 30

Cost: $80 for members, $100 for non-members, $50 for students, and $70 for student non-members

Abstract: Want your pen-and-ink drawings to look like the good ones? Pen and ink is all basically a matter of skill and technique, which can be easily taught, and the results can be done faster, cheaper, and are considerably more attractive than the black-and-white illustrations done on computer. Workshop participants will learn about materials and techniques, page design and layout, maps, lettering, scientific illustration conventions, problems posed by different kinds of artifacts, working size, reproduction concerns, ethics, and dealing with authors and publishers. A reading list and pen and paper (tracing vellum) will be provided, but feel free to bring your own pens, tools, books and, of course, questions. Be ready to work!
WKS-04: Reach Your Audience: Best Practices for Blogging and Podcasting about Archaeology—CANCELLED

_Instructor:_ William White III (University of California, Berkeley)

_Half-day workshop:_ 8:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

_Maximum enrollment:_ 25

_Cost:_ $80 for members, $100 for nonmembers, $50 for student members, and $70 for student nonmembers

_Abstract:_ Blogging and podcasting are powerful tools archaeologists can use to reach massive audiences, spread the word about their research, and connect with communities. Both platforms are already changing how we practice and discuss archaeology. An increasing number of archaeologists realize the potential of digital platforms. They have responded by creating more digital content, but most of us are not doing it as effectively as we could. This half-day workshop will cover some best practices that archaeologists can use to connect with audiences, spread the word about their work, and address larger issues in our field.

Bill White has been blogging and podcasting about archaeology since 2010. His online work is designed to help cultural resource management archaeologists and archaeology students get and keep jobs. The session is designed to help universities, CRM companies, and avocational archaeologists create quality digital assets using readily available strategies. This workshop will discuss:

- Why blogging and podcasting matters for archaeology
- How to effectively write a blog post and produce a podcast
- How to build topic clusters and use inbound strategies to drive traffic to your platform
- How to create the kind of blog or podcast that continues to generate traffic long after each piece of content has been created
- Strategies for targeting audiences, collecting traffic metrics, and cultivating online communities

This workshop is designed for archaeologists who have used the internet, social media, and written about archaeology, but attendees do not need to have their own website, blog, or podcast. The session will provide basic strategies for starting a blog or podcast, or improving an existing one. No special software or electronics are required; however, it is recommended you bring a laptop to the workshop (PC or Mac).
WKS-05: Developing and Maintaining Hands-On Archaeology Volunteer Programs

Instructor: John McCarthy, RPA (Delaware State Parks)
Half-day workshop: 8:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.
Location: CC Meeting Room 102
Maximum enrollment: 25
Cost: $40 for members, $50 for nonmembers, $20 for student members, and $25 for student nonmembers

Abstract: While panic was workshop leader John McCarthy’s first reaction when told he would have to restart the Time Traveler volunteer program at Delaware State Parks, the program is now in its fourth year of successful operation. In this half-day workshop, the workshop leader and attendees will share their successes and failures to identify and refine best practices for developing and maintaining hands-on archaeology volunteer programs. Among the topics discussed will be: the nature of modern volunteerism; program goals and objectives; branding, buy-in, and partnering; media and communication; training, recognition, and rewards; and ethics and program responsiveness and evaluation.

WKS-06: GIS for Historical Archaeologists- SOLD OUT

Instructors: Benjamin Carter (Muhlenberg College) and Neha Gupta (University of New Brunswick)
Full-day workshop: 8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Location: CC Meeting Room 101
Maximum enrollment: 25
Cost: $40 for members, $50 for nonmembers, $25 for student members, and $35 for student nonmembers

Abstract: Mapping is an essential skill for all archaeologists. Spatial patterns, relationships, and contexts are the essence of archaeology and Geographic Information Systems are the primary method for organizing and visualizing complex archaeological data. Yet, there are limited opportunities for historical archaeologists to gain skills and training in GIS methods. This workshop is designed for both the beginning user as well as those looking to “brush up” on their GIS skills and best practices. We will be covering topics such as: concepts in GIS, types of data, limitations in digital archaeological data and GIS software, acquiring GIS software, finding and retrieving data, entering data, organizing data in GIS, visualizing data, georeferencing, and geocoding. We will use QGIS, a powerful and user-friendly open-source GIS software package. Skills that participants gain in the workshop are applicable to other GIS packages. Participants will need to download the correct version of QGIS for their operating system on their personal laptop computer in order to participate.
WKS-07: An Introduction to Collections-Based Research

Instructor: Elizabeth Bollwerk (DAACS-Thomas Jefferson Foundation/Monticello) and Beatrix Arendt (Thomas Jefferson Foundation/Monticello)

Half-day workshop: 1:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m.
Location: CC Meeting Room 102
Maximum enrollment: 20
Cost: $50 for members, $70 for nonmembers, $35 for student members, and $45 for student nonmembers

Abstract: In accordance with the theme of this year’s conference, “Providing Opportunities for Students through Education, Training, and Experience,” this half-day workshop is geared towards graduate students considering or in the initial stages of conducting a collections-based study for their senior or master’s thesis or dissertation. The goals of the workshop are to (1) introduce students to the opportunities afforded by and challenges inherent in collections-based research (here defined as the practice of using existing collections to pose and evaluate scholarly questions [King 2014]) and (2) demonstrate how collections-based research can enable a comparative approach to ask new questions of archaeological data.

The first half of the workshop will provide an overview of the benefits and challenges of collections-based research. We will go through the process of collections-based research and discuss the various stages including: crafting a research question; identifying relevant collections; applying for funding; collecting, storing, and managing data; and conducting analysis. The second half of the workshop will consist of two case-study exercises that focus on the management and analysis of collections data. In particular, both case studies will highlight how collections-based research enables innovative comparative analysis and outline the methods that are part of this process. These studies will highlight the researchers’ decision-making processes and how they addressed the challenges of working with collections data.
WKS-08: GMAC Introduction to Systemic Racism Workshop
Presented by Crossroads Anti-Racism Training

Organizers: Lewis Jones and Florie Bugarin, SHA Gender and Minority Affairs Committee
Date: Saturday, January 12, 2019
Half-day workshop: 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
Location: CC Grand Ballroom C
Maximum enrollment: 50
Cost: $5 per registrant

Abstract: The introductory 4-hour workshop will continue to show SHA members how to develop a systemic analysis on racism, the aim of which will be to assist us (both as individuals and as a society) in beginning and strengthening our institutional interventions against racism.
TOURS

All tours will be offered on Wednesday, January 9, 2019. Bus pick up and drop off for T1, T2, and T4 will be at the Convention Center entrance opposite the North Exhibit Hall on the lower level of the Convention Center.

T1: Missouri Wine Tour and Daniel Boone House Tour

Tour Time: 8:00 a.m.–4:45 p.m.
Minimum number of participants: 23
Cost per person: $60

Enjoy the drive along the Missouri River Valley for this tour. Called the “New Rhineland” by German immigrants in the early 1800s, this region of Missouri’s wine country was populated by these German immigrants. Ranging from St. Charles to as far west as Hermann, Missouri, wine making started in 1846. The tour will include three wineries, each with their own vineyards. You will have ample opportunity to experience Missouri’s wines! Before you get your first taste, however, you will see what life was like at the turn of the 19th century. You will tour the large, ca. 1806 stone house where Daniel Boone died, now owned by St. Charles County Parks https://www.visitmo.com/the-historic-daniel-boone-home.aspx. Owned and built by his youngest son, Nathan, the house is furnished with period items, including many from the Boones themselves. This site also has a village of mostly 19th-century buildings saved from the bulldozer and moved to this location many decades ago, as well as a small gift shop. These buildings are included in the tour as well. Then have lunch on your own and get your first taste of Missouri wines at the Chandler Hill winery near the Boone Home http://www.chandlerhillvineyards.com/. Next up is the Mount Pleasant winery for tastings and a tour of this historic mid-19th-century winery https://mountpleasant.com/. The last stop will be the Sugar Creek winery for another tasting that may include a sample of their own vodka, if you wish http://www.sugarcreekwines.com/. The bus ride to the Boone Home will be about 45 minutes and will leave from and drop off at the St. Charles Convention Center. Wear a warm coat!
T2: Cahokia Mounds Tour and Lunch at the Infamous Lemp Mansion—SOLD OUT

Tour Time: 8:30 a.m.–3:45 p.m.
Maximum number of participants: 23
Cost per person: $35

Tour the largest prehistoric archaeological site north of Mexico City! See the largest, prehistoric, earthen mound in North America! Walk through the world-class visitor’s center museum and learn about the largest city in the world at that time. Cahokia was once home to as many as 20,000 inhabitants and had far-reaching influence across North America from Wisconsin to Ohio to Florida and to Louisiana. Grab your souvenirs at the gift shop (which has an excellent book selection) in the visitor’s center. If weather permits, you can take a strenuous walk up to the top of Monk’s Mound https://cahokiamounds.org/. Then, rest on the bus as you head to the famous Lemp Mansion for lunch on your own and a tour of this restored, opulent, Victorian home. Located in the old brewery district of St. Louis, this historic, 33-room mansion, built in the 1860s, is famous for hauntings and was the home of one of the United States’ more-famous brewing families http://www.lempmansion.com/. The Lemp Mansion is on two levels and does not have an elevator for persons with disabilities. Wear sturdy shoes and a warm coat!

T3: Mark Twain Tour to Hannibal, Missouri—CANCELLED

Tour Time: 7:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Maximum number of participants: 23
Cost per person: $55

The Mississippi River town of Hannibal is the birthplace and childhood home of Samuel Clemens, aka Mark Twain https://www.marktwainmuseum.org/. You will get to see many of his inspirations for his more-famous novels, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Tour two museums, Jim’s Journey: Black History Center/Museum http://www.jimsjourney.org/, and Mark Twain’s Boyhood Home & Museum. The latter has multiple buildings, some separated by a few blocks. Have lunch on your own and enjoy the historic downtown area with its shops, and/or continue your tour of the museum buildings where many Mark Twain artifacts from throughout his life are on display. The bus ride will be about one and a half hours and will leave from and drop off at the St. Charles Convention Center.
T4: Missouri’s French Heritage Tour: Ste. Genevieve, Missouri

Tour Time: 7:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
Maximum number of participants: 23
Cost per person: $45

It is likely that people of French origin/birth constitute Missouri’s first European/European American settlers. Most likely starting with French voyageurs in the 17th century, the French influence on Missouri is often overlooked. Ste. Genevieve, however, has not forgotten. Founded ca. 1740, Ste. Genevieve boasts the largest number of standing French Colonial buildings between Louisiana and Quebec City. Tour several of these homes and other buildings, and visit a pewter shop, where they use exceptionally old molds, to see how pewter is molded and worked. Ste. Genevieve is home to the newest National Historic Park, though the details of this transition will not be complete at the time of the tour. A lunch buffet will provided at the Old Brick Restaurant. The bus ride will be about one and a half hours and will leave from and drop off at the St. Charles Convention Center.

T5: Historic Main Street St. Charles, Architectural Walking Tour

Tour Time: 1:00 p.m.–2:30 p.m.
Maximum number of participants: 15
Cost per person: $5

With the south end just one driving mile from the convention center, Embassy Suites, and Fairfield Inn, and just two blocks from the Country Inn and Suites, Historic Main Street in St. Charles is one mile long and lined on both sides of the street with 19th-century architecture. This guided tour, led by docents from the St. Charles Convention and Visitors Bureau, will show you the more unique architecture of the street. Stroll along the street and enjoy the dozens of shops and restaurants, as well as historic sights and signage. Starting in the early afternoon and lasting approximately one hour, you can have lunch at one of the many fine restaurants before and return to your favorite locations after the tour for shopping. Don’t forget to take a walk in Riverfront Park and enjoy the Missouri River and see the starting point for the Lewis and Clark expedition.

The tour will leave from the St. Charles Convention and Visitors Bureau, 230 S. Main Street, St. Charles, MO 63301. Transportation to the tour starting point is on your own.
Roundtable luncheons are scheduled from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Portland Room of the Embassy Suites on Thursday, January 10, 2019 and in the Treloar Room on Friday, January 11, 2019. Maximum of ten people per roundtable luncheon. Cost $30.00 per person.

RL-1 Interpreting Maritime Heritage through Walking Trails

Host: Della Scott-Ireton (Florida Public Archaeology Network)

Description: Interpreted walking trails are a great way to expose large numbers of people to maritime heritage sites and resources. Relatively easy to create and install, land-based pedestrian heritage trails offer education through recreation and enable those who may not otherwise pay attention to maritime heritage to learn about shipwrecks, maritime cultural landscapes, seaside communities, and other nautical nuggets. As with any public undertaking, some challenges can be expected. Join Della to talk about laying the groundwork, funding possibilities, stakeholder engagement, design options, text and image considerations, installation strategies, ongoing maintenance issues, and more!

RL-2: Marketing Archaeology to the Masses

Host: Charles Ewen (East Carolina University)

Description: Most people are exposed to archaeology through movies, popular magazines, or reality television shows. How can real archaeologists compete to expose the public to real archaeology? This roundtable will discuss how archaeologists can educate and entertain to get their lessons across in popular media and the classroom.

RL-3: Learning from Loss: Heritage at Risk, Public Engagement, and Advocacy

Host: Sarah Miller (Florida Public Archaeology Network)

Description: Drawing from experiences from the Learning from Loss program in Scotland Summer of 2018, the discussion for this roundtable will focus how to engage the public in visiting and understanding sites at risk from climate change, how to prioritize sites for protection and study, and what impact archaeologists can have in states with no official climate change policy.
RL-4: Professionalism in the Heritage Consulting Industry: How Your Attitude and Demeanor Can Determine Your Future Career Path

Host: Andy Weir (President, Commonwealth Heritage Group)

Description: Thinking about a job in the cultural resource management industry? Come join the President of the Commonwealth Heritage Group, a large, national CRM firm, and learn why experience on your CV and ability to walk long distances is not all that is necessary to find and keep a job in this field.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 2019
ES TRELOAR
12:00 P.M. TO 1:30 P.M.

RL-5 Jobs in Nautical Archaeology-SOLD OUT

Host: Paul Johnston, Smithsonian Institution

Description: What are the different job types and career tracks in nautical archaeology today? This discussion will speak to public archaeology (NOAA, National Park Service, BOEM, Parks Canada, state programs, etc.); private-sector cultural resource management (contract archaeology, consulting); private foundations; academic positions and museum work (public and private); and treasure hunting. We’ll talk about the advantages and disadvantages of these various paths, as well as prospects in these fields.
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 2019

Opening Reception
Time: 8:00 p.m.–11:00 p.m.
Location: CC Grand Ballroom A-D Pre-Function (Upper Level of the Convention Center)
Cost: No fee for SHA conference registrants

Following the plenary session, greet old friends and make new ones at the first social event of the conference. Complimentary appetizers will be provided along with a cash bar.
THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 2019

Past Presidents’ Student Reception

Time: 4:30 p.m.–6:00 p.m.

Location: Old Millstream Inn Restaurant, 912 S. Main St., Saint Charles, MO 63301

Cost: No fee for SHA student conference registrants. (complimentary appetizers and a cash bar). Attendees must have a ticket for this event.

The SHA encourages attendance by undergraduate and graduate students alike. This year, the event will have designated locations at the restaurant for students to learn more about such topics as CV building, job-hunting skills, and other academic information. Each station will be hosted by a past president of the Society and an SHA committee chair. This event is open to all students registered for the SHA 2019 Conference and provides a venue to engage SHA’s leaders in conversation and make contacts that will help foster future careers in archaeology.

Reception at the Missouri Wing Commemorative Air Force Hanger, Smartt Field, St. Charles County

Time: 6:30 p.m.–10:00 p.m.

Cost: $55 per person

Attendees will have the opportunity to explore this active, large, vintage, early-1940s wooden Quonset hut hangar filled with World War II-era vehicles and aircraft http://cafmo.org/default.aspx. During the war, Smartt Field was a training field. The food and cash bar will be in their replica, South Pacific officers club. You will be able to climb aboard the Wing’s three operational aircraft, an L-3 observation plane built in 1941, a TBM-3E Avenger torpedo bomber built in 1945, and the famous B-25J Mitchell (Show Me) built in 1945. Sit in the L-3’s and Avenger’s cockpits (have your photo taken in the Avenger!), and walk/stoop through the B-25 from tail gun to nose gun! A small museum is next to the main hangar and provides an opportunity to see many World War II items and learn more about the aircraft. This will be a fantastic event, but bring your coat, as the hangar will be cool despite the provided heaters.

Bus pick up and drop off will be at the Convention Center entrance opposite the North Exhibit Hall on the lower level of the Convention Center.
